Eureka Springs HISTORY Stair Step Town

A visit to Eureka Springs is a treasure hunt. Around every corner and hidden staircase lies a piece of the past and a welcome to the present. As one of the largest Historic Districts in Arkansas, Eureka Springs is a mesmerizing blend of old and new. The National Trust for Historic Preservation heralds Eureka Springs as one of twelve Distinctive Destinations in America. We're passionate about preservation and it shows!

The town has earned many accolades in recent years, including the Prettiest Small Town in America, the Best Small Art Town in the U.S., the Best Small Town to See Fall Foliage, the Top 10 Places to Travel, and the Best Haunted

Town in the U.S., just to name a few. This quaint little town with not a single traffic light is full of fun for you to discover. Explore the ups and downs of our safe, mountainside city on foot, by car, or by trolley and tram. The adventurous will enjoy miles of mountain biking trails.

Start at the Eureka Springs Historical Museum to learn about the people who put Eureka Springs on the map. Founded July 4, 1879, Eureka Springs celebrates its birthday at Basin Spring Park — the renown healing spring of our past, the hub of our present, and the very heart of the city.

Our Victorian ancestors liked to stroll, and you'll find paths to more than 50 landmark springs in The City that Water Built that drew health seekers before the turn of the 20th century. Bring comfortable shoes. This Stairstep Town has 360 streets – some only a block long– that wind through town and none intersect at right angles.

Venture through history as you visit the hotels, shops, attractions and restaurants that call Eureka Springs home. Aptly named The Little Switzerland of America for its European look and terrain, Eureka Springs still has 68 miles of hand-stacked limestone walls, buildings, and more than a dozen properties on the National Register of Historic Places.

Our streets may be narrow, but our hearts are wide open! Come explore Eureka Springs and make lasting memories while you're here!

4 SEASONS

A Year 'Round Destination

Visit Eureka Springs in all of her seasons to embrace the wonder that draws visitors year after year. There's a reason Eureka Springs has received so many accolades, including being named one of the top places to live and visit. Something about this small town has intrigued visitors since its founding days. Today is no different. Let Eureka Springs cast her spell on you in every season.

Spring and Summer Adventures: The folks at AARP named Eureka Springs the prettiest small town in the nation, and spring may be the prettiest season of all. Still cool but warming, spring unfolds as a wonderland of cheerful colors against limestone bluffs. Shops are stocking their newest finds, restaurants are putting the final touches on new menu items, and city-wide events like the St. Patrick's and May Artrageous Parades are on the agenda. There are more than ten festivals during spring season, including Fiber in the Ozarks, the Eureka Springs Chocolate Lovers Festival, Spring Diversity, the UFO Conference, and Carving in the Ozarks.

By summer, the leaves are full, the rivers are running, and everything outdoors is popular: hiking and biking, boating, fishing, and swimming, ziplining and off-roading, tiger watching, sightseeing, and garden spotting, hidden gem finding, and patio sitting while relaxing over a great meal. Sidewalks in the historic district are bustling this time of year, with happy visitors enjoying all that Eureka Springs has to offer. Must-dos for summer include Opera in the Ozarks, celebrating its 75th anniversary this year, a whole slew of car club gatherings and parades, Eureka's birthday bash, and the Basin Spring Park concert series!

Autumn Splendor: Named one the best small towns to see fall foliage, Eureka Springs in Autumn is a symphony of color. The weather is perfect for more outdoor activities, and one of the most popular is... shopping! The Hillberry Festival and the Ozark Folk Festival, with all its long standing traditions, kick off the season. There are several big gatherings, including the Jeep Jam, Bikes Blues and BBQ, and the Corvette Rally. Autumn closes with spooky season, featuring the Mad Hatter Ball, Voices of Eureka's Silent City, and the much-loved Zombie Crawl.

Winter Magic: Winter in Eureka Springs is known as the secret season—the perfect time for a tranquil escape to a winter wonderland. Enjoy cozy settings, maybe a crackling fireplace, and an entirely different view through the trees. We never know what kind of winter we will have, but usually, the area revels in a dusting of snow that blankets town and transforms the landscape into a picture postcard. We launch winter with Shop Small Saturday, the annual Tour of Homes, and of course, Santa in the Parade of Lights.

Home to more than 300 local working artists, many of whom are busy in their studios this time of year, Eureka Springs boasts its share of galleries. There's a reason Eureka Springs was named the Best Small Art Town in the United States. Whether you're looking to adorn your nest with a new favorite artist, add to a collection, or just admire, this is a great time to enjoy the art of Eureka Springs. The new Museum of Eureka Springs Art is the best place to start your journey. Not all shops, restaurants, and attractions will be open during winter, but that seems to add to the magical relationship you'll make with Eureka Springs when you visit in the secret season. It's the right time to make new friends and memories.

Eureka Springs PARKS & TRAILS Where Eureka Hikes!

Tucked between Beaver and Table Rock Lakes with the White and Kings Rivers at its borders, Eureka Springs is a haven for outdoor enthusiasts. Natural resources and pristine mountain views abound for hiking, biking and water adventures. Visitors who want to connect with nature in the Ozark Mountains will find Eureka Springs the perfect base camp.

Lake Leatherwood

Lake Leatherwood City Park is an 85-acre, spring-fed lake in the middle of more than 1600 acres of rugged Ozark biomes. It features one of the largest hand-cut native limestone dams in the country and nearly 25 miles of trails suitable for hiking and mountain biking. The park is one of the original mountain bike trail systems in the state. The dam, the historic diving platform and pavilion, and several other structures were built in the early 1940s by the WPA, and the entire park is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Open daily, the park has boat rentals, fishing, swimming, playground, camping, and cabins. Admission is free. Located on Highway 62 West of town.

Black Bass Lake

Inside the city limits lies Black Bass Lake, with a history that dates back to 1894. The earthen and cut stone dam is one of the oldest still standing in the Ozarks. The park offers a 1.8-mile loop for hiking and mountain biking with historic springs, cavernous overhanging ledges, and waterfalls in season. The trail is well marked and maintained. Numerous bird species such as pileated woodpeckers, white-breasted nuthatches, and bald eagles are common. Ribbon snakes, slider turtles, and deer make Black Bass their home. The lake is also open for fishing and non-motorized boating. There are no bathroom facilities, and the dam, the area below the dam, and the spillway area are NO access areas. Animals are welcome on leash. The park is located down Oil Springs Road gravel road off W. Van Buren, also known Highway 62 W. Admission is free.

Basin Spring Park

The place where it all began, this legendary healing spring is the heart of Eureka Springs' Historic District. Known to Native Americans and early pioneer settlers, Basin Spring Park has been the social hub since the beginning. While the spring is no longer accessible to visitors, the town's bandshell and outdoor concert venue marks the heart of Eureka Springs. Be sure to check out the park's historical landmarks, including the Basin Park Fire Bell, Civil War memorials, and a 10-foot-tall mosaic sculpture known as Aza. Hiking trails are located above the park. Basin Spring Park is a great place to watch parades and participate in the monthly Drumming in the Park events in the summer and fall.

Harmon Park

Harmon Park was once the home of the town's summer opera house in the early 1900s. The park is now more than six acres with a picnic area, ADA accessible playground, skate park, restrooms, performance platform and walking trails. A great place for family outings. The park is located at 532 Spring Street in Dairy Hollow. Admission is free.

Bark Park

Bark Park is a gated park open to dogs attending with their owners. The park was an effort of love and funded completely by community volunteers. The park is located at 532 Spring Street behind Parks and Recreation headquarters, and adjacent to Harmon Park. Admission is free.

MID-WEEK

Where Eureka Gathers!

Eureka Springs is a great place for rallies, jamborees, and get-togethers like conferences, car groups and motorcycle clubs. At your next agenda meetup, consider mid-week a viable alternative when setting up your annual event dates.

Room Availability: Mid-week events make it more likely Eureka Springs can accommodate your group. Lodging hosts like the Best Western Inn of the Ozarks and Quality Inn, who excel at hosting large events, can better meet your needs mid-week. Whether you need more rooms, meeting space, or both, mid-week scheduling makes that possible. This goes for many smaller motels and campgrounds, too.

Room Discounts: Some lodging offers mid-week room discounts. You may be able to offer your attendees more bang for their buck, plus score those convenient room blocks.

A Quieter Pace: Since much of Eureka Springs' visitor traffic is weekend-based, a mid-week event can make attractions, shopping, and restaurant availabilities more suitable for your group. Many attractions and restaurants would welcome mid-week business. They may even offer discounted options to accommodate your gathering. Check with the attractions and restaurants you're interested in visiting to see if a group event mid-week is a workable solution.

Navigating Historic Downtown: Let's face it, parking in the Eureka Springs historic district can be challenging. With a mid-week agenda, group parking and street access is easier. Don't forget the Trolley and Tram Tours for those group activities. Mid-week scheduling can give you prime-time sightseeing without the crowds.

Interaction with Locals: Part of the charm of Eureka Springs is imagining you live here. Weekends can be a hustle for shop owners and front line workers. Mid-week activities often bring out the locals who love to spend time rubbing elbows with visitors who share their love for Eureka Springs.

Weddings in Eureka Springs are truly special, no matter the style. Couples are drawn to the romance in the air: historic chapels tucked into the hills, sweeping outdoor venues with Ozark backdrops, intimate gardens, rustic barns, and grand spaces perfect for timeless ceremonies. Many couples come here for the ease as much as the beauty—local planners, florists, photographers, caterers, and officiants have years of experience helping visitors craft celebrations that feel effortless yet memorable. Whether you imagine a fairytale ceremony, an elegant gathering, a simple elopement, or something wonderfully unconventional, Eureka Springs offers a place where your vision can take root and flourish.

Group travel thrives here as well, thanks to the town's welcoming atmosphere and abundance of experiences. From corporate retreats to girls' weekends, church outings, and multi-generational family vacations, Eureka Springs balances relaxation with adventure. Lodging options range from boutique hotels and historic inns to full-service resorts, cozy cabins, and group-friendly rentals. Many properties are designed with gatherings in mind, offering meeting spaces, banquet rooms, outdoor areas, and amenities that bring people together easily.

Once your group arrives, exploring becomes part of the fun. Visitors love discovering the eclectic shops, art galleries, and locally owned restaurants that line the town's iconic streets. Tours—both guided and self-paced—introduce guests to the city's history, culture, and natural wonders, while the area's outdoor adventures are perfect for groups who want to add some excitement to their itinerary. Hiking, biking, boating, and sightseeing blend seamlessly with spa visits, live music, and attractions suited for all ages.

What makes Eureka Springs stand out for weddings and groups is the feeling of connection the town inspires. Guests slow down, enjoy time together, and truly experience the moment. Couples often return for anniversaries. Families plan repeat reunions. Groups make it a tradition. There's a sense that this place is not just a backdrop but part of the celebration itself—adding warmth, charm, and a little bit of magic.

Those planning an event will also appreciate the support offered throughout the community. The Eureka Springs Chamber of Commerce and local hospitality partners can assist with recommendations, venue introductions, planning resources, and insider guidance that makes coordinating from afar smooth and stress-free. Whether your gathering is intimate or expansive, you'll find a team of professionals ready to help bring your plans to life with genuine enthusiasm.

Eureka Springs is more than a destination—it's a feeling, a place where love stories unfold, families reconnect, friendships deepen, and celebrations shine. Whether you're saying "I do," bringing a group together, or creating new traditions, you'll find that Eureka Springs has a way of turning moments into memories that last a lifetime.

LODGING

Where Eureka Stays!

A popular destination in the Victorian era, Eureka Springs grew from a small settlement into a bustling town of several thousand. Homes filled every hillside and valley, creating the charming architectural mosaic that still defines the city today.

Now a recognized Tree City USA with fewer than 3,000 residents, Eureka Springs remains one of America's top travel destinations. Many of the original Victorian homes still stand—some lovingly restored and welcoming overnight guests. From hillside cottages to grand gingerbread-trimmed mansions, the community offers an impressive variety of lodging experiences.

Cozy bed and breakfasts serve morning meals made with Ozarks hospitality. Hotels and motels provide convenient amenities, whether continental breakfast offerings or full restaurant service. Tourist lodging ranges from mid-century modern retreats to treehouses, historic hotels, rustic cabins, and lakeview condos. Whatever your style, you'll find a warm welcome waiting.

Some visitors enjoy staying in the lively heart of town, steps from historic streets, eclectic shops, and live entertainment. Others choose the upper historic loop or quiet neighborhoods, where vintage-style motor courts, classic roadside inns, and locally owned hideaways offer character and comfort. Travelers arriving by car will also find a variety of familiar hotel brands and independent motels along the major highways leading into town, offering easy access, ample parking, and quick connections to every corner of the region. With trolley stops located throughout the city, it's easy to explore without ever moving your car.

Eureka Springs has always embraced the unique, the artistic, and the unexpected. Many lodging hosts specialize in creating one-of-a-kind stays designed around history, nature, romance, or whimsy. Whether you prefer Victorian charm, wooded cabins tucked among the hills, modern micro-suites, or garden-side cottages, you'll find options that reflect the city's creative spirit.

Travelers seeking hidden gems will love the tucked-away nooks found throughout the hills—quiet cottages overlooking springs, reimagined historic spaces, and personalized stays that include local insight and thoughtful touches. These retreats offer privacy while keeping guests close to downtown attractions.

For those who dream of being surrounded by trees and wildlife, Eureka Springs' forested edges provide peaceful havens. Wooded cabins, garden lodges, and charming retreats blend comfort with nature, often with nearby trolley access for an easy ride to shops and restaurants. Secluded log cabins and nature-inspired escapes offer a blend of rustic charm and modern convenience, perfect for enjoying the natural beauty of the Ozarks.

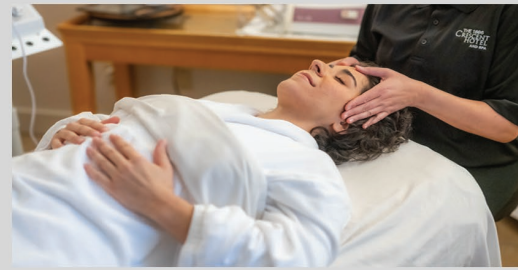

Just a short drive west of town lies Beaver Lake, a sparkling reservoir known for its clear waters, limestone bluffs, and 487 miles of scenic shoreline. Visitors enjoy breathtaking views, lakeside recreation, and a variety of lodging styles—from hilltop hideouts to waterfront cabins that offer peaceful relaxation after a day of adventure.

Between Eureka Springs and Beaver Lake, travelers will find a mix of resorts and private retreats. Storybook-style treehouses, historic ranch properties, river-adjacent cabins, and spacious countryside cottages offer something for every type of traveler. Many locations provide easy access to hiking, biking, fishing, floating, and the inspiring vistas surrounding Lake Leatherwood, the White River, and the Ozark backroads.

North of town and toward the Missouri border, peaceful forest resorts and hillside escapes offer quiet privacy and stargazing opportunities. Vacation rentals throughout Eureka Springs, Beaver Lake, and Holiday Island provide a range of stays—from family-friendly homes to romantic getaways—each offering its own blend of comfort and adventure.

For an unforgettable twist, Eureka Springs even offers lodging near one of the region's most unique wildlife experiences, where visitors can fall asleep to the sounds of nature and wake to views of the Ozark hills. It's a truly unforgettable "only in Eureka Springs" escape.

Where Eureka Eats!

The thing about Eureka Springs is there's something for everyone—and food is no exception. Whether you're in the mood for fine dining and gourmet fare, craving a perfectly crafted burger, celebrating a special occasion, or packing a picnic for a day on the river, you'll find exactly what you're looking for.

Dining in Eureka Springs is defined by creativity and local flavor. The city doesn't have chain restaurants, which means nearly every meal is crafted by chefs who bring their own style, heritage, and passion to the table. Expect secret family recipes, fresh regional ingredients, and imaginative menus that make every dish a memorable experience. Most eateries are chef-owned and operated, giving visitors a chance to savor authentic Ozarks flavors and artistic culinary flair.

Because many locations are independently operated, be sure to check reservation policies and last seating times, especially if you plan to arrive in town later in the evening. Some restaurants stay open late throughout the week, offering hearty classics, vegetarian-friendly choices, handcrafted desserts, and great drinks. You'll also find lively spots downtown with weekend entertainment, late-night menus, and outdoor patios overlooking the bustling streets.

Those who enjoy dining with a view will love the many restaurants offering balconies, garden courtyards, and hillside vantage points. From elegant historic settings to
